The European Science Foundation (ESF) signed in January 2014 a memorandum of understanding with the Norwegian Social Science Data Services (NSD) to transfer the maintenance and operations of the European Reference Index for the Humanities (ERIH) to NSD. The ERIH database operated by NSD is called ERIH PLUS.

The European Science Foundation (ESF) and the Norwegian Social Science Data Services (NSD) are pleased to announce that the transfer of the European Reference Index for the Humanities (ERIH) to NSD has been completed and is now available at the NSD website:

<http://erihplus.nsd.no/>

Following the memorandum of understanding signed in January 2014, NSD will now operate the new reference index for scientific journals in the humanities and social sciences. Our goal is to enhance the global visibility of high-quality research in the humanities and social sciences across Europe, and to facilitate access to research journals published in all European languages. The ERIH PLUS index encompasses the original ERIH lists, which initially only covered the humanities disciplines. The new reference index is called ERIH PLUS, in order to indicate that the list has been extended to also include social science disciplines.

ERIH PLUS permite localizar las publicaciones a través de los campos título, ISSN y buscar por áreas temáticas las revistas

Si la revista se encuentra en ERIH PLUS, ofrece una breve descripción de la revista.

The screenshot shows the ERIH PLUS website interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with links for NSD, Data Services, Software, eLearning, and International. The main content area is titled 'ERIH PLUS' and 'Linguistics'. It lists various details about the journal, including its international title, ISSN numbers, URL, publisher, country of publication, language, and discipline. A 'Peer review' status is also indicated. On the right side, there are two informational boxes: one stating that the journal was approved in 2011 according to ERIH criteria, and another showing its SHERPA RoMEO status as 'Yellow' with a last check date of 2013-05-07. A 'Provide feedback' section is located at the bottom of the main content area.
